THE history of gold mining in the Malay Peninsula up to its present point closely re- represent the Club:sembles that of the early stages of gold mining in India. The extravagant hopes that were entertained respecting the Mysore and other mines, the excitement in the stock market, and the extravagant figures to which the shares were rushed up, will still be fresh in the recollection of many of our industry was not abandoned. Secondary anecdote, given in Mr. Lincoln's inimitable very satisfactory dividends were being earned. The same, we hope, will be the case with the mines on the Punjom concession. the "look-see" stage. made on Mr. H. M. BECHEB, the Company's Manager ; but nothing was brought out to justify the attack, and Mr. Beonen was able to make a very effective defence. During the period he has had the management, he has from time to time described the indications met with in the work of prospecting, and when those indications appeared promising he has naturally said so. There is not the slightest ground for suspicion that he ever gave anything but an accurate account of what he saw, and about the most hopeful thing he has ever said was that there was as good a prospect of developing extensive and rich gold mines as either miner or mining adventurer could wish for. So far that prospect has not been realised, but it still remains. For all that is known to the contrary, the gold fields of Pahang may turn out as rich as those o Australia, and the Panjom Company may be in possession of the richest portion of them. In the early days of the Punjom Company a good deal of money was thrown away by reckless mismanagement. The ricolite and green onyx quarries now operated in Grant County, New Mexico, mark a most remarkable discovery. The stone forms Plantinga true fisence vein 50 feet wide and more than a mile long, and it is taken out in huge blocks and carried to Chicago—where the quarries are owned—for use in juside and outside decoration of houses. The material is of a variety of colours -dark green and cream, striped and mattled also pink, and cream-is susceptible of a high polish, very tough, and the only stone of the kind in the world that can be carved.

A reprint of an address before the Franklin Institute, by Thos. Pray, jun., shows an astonishing difference in the cost of steam power in different establishments, the range being from $7.98 to $564.32 per horse power for a year of 3,080 working hours. A great waste of power from various causes is believed to be very common in-incomptives, steamships, electric gener-

Renewed attention has been directed to some purious experiments made 25 years ago by M Nicolas Wogner. It was then demonstrated that fixed electric currents exist in the wings of butterflies and that the colonr of the winge is determined by them ourrents. Artificial currents changed the reds into orange, and blacks into red, and a constant battery produced spots vary ing in shape with the strength of the current By means of electricity, it was also possible to produce a kind of strophy, and to change the shape of the wings.
